A WORD ABOUT FEES

For "uncontested" divorces or "agreed to" separation agreements, your attorney can quote you a fixed fee; for other services, fees are generally charged on a time basis. Fees quoted are representative of similar cases, but are, nevertheless, estimated and depend upon the amount of work involved to bring your case to a conclusion. This will be explained by your attorney and in your retainer agreement with your attorney. After consulting with your attorney, if you find you do not need a lawyer or do not now wish to retain the lawyer with whom you consulted, you will be charged a $150.00 consultation fee which is payable upon the conclusion of your visit (unless you have prepaid). This information sheet and the attorney's notes will be retained for future use if you later decide to retain one of the Law Center's attorneys.

An "initial consultation" is designed to give you, the client, an opportunity to determine whether the attorney has the skills to resolve the presenting problem and for you to see if you feel "comfortable" with the attorney's personality and style. In most cases (i.e., cases of a routine nature not requiring significant legal research), the consultation will include advice on options you might pursue to resolve the presenting issue. The initial consultation fee does not cover "out of office" contacts, including placing telephone calls, drafting correspondence, etc. If you wish the attorney to perform such services for you during the initial consultation period, then you will be billed at the attorney's standard hourly rate for such services. Fees will be quoted to you before any such "out of office" contacts are made.
