A word about fees

Your attorney can quote you a fixed fee for standard services pertaining to the preparation and filing of standard bankruptcy paperwork. For other services associated with a bankruptcy filing (such as negotiations toward reaffirming debts, avoidance of liens, challenges to the granting of a discharge by a creditor or the trustee, etc.), fees are generally charged on a time basis. Fees quoted are representative of similar cases, but are nevertheless estimated and depend upon the amount of work involved to bring your case to a conclusion. This will be explained by your attorney and in your retainer agreement with your attorney.

After consulting with your attorney, if you find you do not need a lawyer or do not now wish to retain the lawyer with whom you consulted, you will be charged a $45.00 consultation fee which is payable upon the conclusion of your visit. This information sheet and the attorney's notes will be retained for future use if you later decide to retain one of the Law Center's attorneys.

The following information will assist the attorney in evaluating your case and in giving you the best advice for your situation.
